US President Joe Biden liked suggestions of Acharya Dr. Lokeshji on 'Peace Education' to solve the problem of Gun Violence There is a need to introduce Peace Education in dealing with the problems of violence around the world - Acharya Lokesh

Eminent Jain Acharya Dr. Lokeshji, Founder of Ahimsa Vishwa Bharti met US President Joe Biden in Los Angeles, USA and discussed solutions to the incidents of violence happening around the world including America and US President Joe Biden liked Acharya Lokeshji's suggestions for "Peace Education" to solve the problem of Gun violence.

Acharya Lokeshji told about this discussion between Indian Saint and World's top leadership that a powerful country like America is currently facing the problem of gun violence. Acharyashri said that while listening to Joe Biden, the President of USA in Los Angeles felt that US President was serious about solving the problem, perhaps he was thinking about banning automatic guns. Acharyashri requested US President that until the root cause would identify to solve the problem, the results would not be possible. The problem is not only guns, the problem is with that mindset, the real solution is to train that mindset inside our brain. He told that to train that mind, we have to introduce programs like "Peace Education" in the education system from primary education itself, if we are successful in doing this then surely it will be a permanent solution.

Acharya Lokeshji suggested in a discussion with the US President that there is a need for training of the brain. So let us introduce 'Peace Education' with primary education so that good individuals and society can be built. Acharyashri said that good Doctors, Lawyers, Engineers are becoming but value based education, peace education is needed to build a good human being and it has to be implemented from primary education because man does not change only by teaching, but by principle, he changes by experiment, we have to introduce these experiment based programs.
